LEADING QUESTION.

Who Is at the Head of the Hawaiian Government?

PRESIDENT DOLE OR THE QUEEN?

It Is Believed in Washington That the Latter Has Already Been Restored to Her Throne—Minister Willis' Instructions—The Latest That Has Been Learned in Official Circles.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The chief interest in the Hawaiian situation now surrounds the instructions given to Minister Willis and the contents of the cipher message which was received after the arrival of the China. While the same answer regarding instructions to foreign ministers is made at the state department, "that such instructions are never made public," yet it seems that from time to time something does come out. A number of people are now quite familiar with some important features of the instructions.

There is no doubt of Mr. Willis being instructed to make the restoration of Liliuokalani conditional upon full amnesty being granted to the men who engaged in the revolution and overthrew the queen. Minister Willis, it is understood, was instructed to insist upon this because the president felt that the revolution would not have occurred had it not been for the assistance and co-operation of this government through the late Minister Stevens. Mr. Willis was instructed to say to these members of the provisional government that the president felt he ought to protect them to this extent because he believed that had it not been for the authority of the United States, used by Minister Stevens, they would never have been led into the revolution.

The instructions, it is thought, requested the minister to first call upon the queen and tell her the president believed a great wrong had been done her and after insisting upon amnesty declare the intention to again place her in control of the government. She was also to be informed that it was the desire of the president that she should placate those who had been instrumental in her overthrow and sustain herself in authority without the assistance of the United States.

From the cipher dispatch it is believed that the state department has been informed that these conditions are satisfactory to the queen and had been accepted by her at the time the China sailed.

To President Dole, it is understood that Minister Willis was instructed to say that the president felt that in protecting the noninterference policy of the government, he felt it necessary to decide the matter as if a dispute had been referred to him and restore the queen, and in sustaining the queen the president hoped to have the hearty co-operation of the members of the Dole administration, which he felt was entitled to commendation for what it had done to maintain peace in the islands since it had been in existence.

After having righted what it considered a wrong by this government the United States would assume the same policy of noninterference in affairs of other powers.

It is thought that the queen was ready to comply with the suggestions that she ask members of the provisional government to aid her because her friends no doubt believe that she could more easily sustain herself by having the assistance of those who were prominent in the revolution. The members of the provisional government would be willing, it is believed, to take such positions because it would give them just the power they would wish in case they desired to take part in another revolution, which is possible if there is no provision made to sustain the queen after she is restored.

It is upon the yet unpublished report of Mr. Blount that the administration depends for a complete vindication of its attitude. It is anticipated that there will be warm debates upon the subject when it comes before congress which will bring out all the facts. The information upon which the letter of Secretary Gresham was based will then have been made public, and while it is anticipated that the statements made will be disputed, it is claimed that they will be sustained by such overwhelming evidence that the people who are disposed to look at the matter fairly will be compelled to acknowledge that the administration could do nothing else but restore the queen.

There is no doubt but that the administration feels that it is on the defensive and that there is a tendency especially among Republicans and among many Democrats to criticise its action. The claim that time will show beyond all doubt that it took the proper course is made with such persistency in various quarters as if with the intention of creating the impression that there is a great deal in reserve for vindication purposes.

There is no denying the fact that there are a great many men who are partisans of President Cleveland who feel that a mistake has been made, and who can not reconcile themselves to the restoration of the queen, and especially sustaining her by force of arms. There are enough members of the president's party who say that it is all right to restore the status before the revolution, if it was brought about by the influence and assistance of the United States government or through the influence of Minister Stevens, but after that the Hawaiians should be allowed to settle their affairs in their own way.

In answer to the assertions made that the president and secretary of state are destroying a republic and setting up a monarchy, the statement is made that there never existed a worse despotism than that of the provisional government of Hawaii. An official of the department said yesterday that "it was a despotism of five persons, and the people were held under their absolute control." He also asserted that there would be a great change in the sentiment of the people when all the facts were known.

Persons in the state department continue absolutely uncommunicated as to any new phase of the Hawaiian question. Some idea of the accuracy of published assertions that have been advanced as speculations, and persisted in, can, however, be had. Thus it is proved that contention of this government will be that provisional government of Hawaii came to an end by its own terms, when United States Minister Willis notified President Dole that the United States rejected the proffered annexation of the islands on the ground that the government was only formed to act until the islands should be annexed. The law books on limitations hold that the term "until" a thing occurs, terminates the case only by the occurrence of a thing, unless it is impossible that it should occur. This would raise a legal quibble as to whether the decision of President Cleveland to reject annexation made it impossible that annexation ever should occur.

Those best qualified to speak for President Cleveland and Secretary Gresham, who have been willing to speak at all, have expressed great confidence that ex-Queen Liliuokalani has already been restored to her throne no later than last Wednesday. The equally confident assertions of those best acquainted with the character and resources of the provisional government that she certainly could not have been restored without the use of force has made no difference apparently in the confidence of those who claim that she has been restored.

This has led to the inference that Minister Willis' instructions were to employ force, if necessary, to accomplish the purpose for which he was sent and that marines were probably landed in Honolulu on Wednesday if any objection was offered by the provisional government to the program proposed.

The rather cordial reception accorded Tuesday by Secretary Gresham to Minister Thurston's official call and his formal acknowledgement of the unsevered relation between the legation and the government make it seem incredible that instructions can have been given to land marines in Honolulu for purposes of aggression upon the government which Mr. Thurston represents.

No information can be secured on the subject, but the belief is growing that Minister Willis' instructions did not include the employment of force. The confidence of those near the president that the queen has been already restored is thought to be due to their belief that the provisional government would yield immediately to the suggestion of the United States minister that the provisional government had terminated and that the sovereignty thereof reverted to the queen and her government.

It is now believed that Minister Willis' instructions are, if the provisional government refuses to yield to his suggestions, to wait for further orders. If this is true, the steamship Australia, which is to arrive at San Francisco on Saturday, may bring word that President Dole is still at the head of the government.

Officials of the navy department are extremely cautious about expressing opinions for publication on the matter. All of them are much interested in the subject and eager for news on it. A prompt official of this department, after inquiring for news yesterday, said: "I don't believe orders have been given to land marines in Honolulu." The favorite response of naval officers to a query for their opinion on the Hawaiian policy is "I have an opinion, but do not feel free to express it."

The original right of Queen Liliuokalani to the throne of Hawaii was by nomination of her brother Kalakaua. The Hawaiian constitution, founded on custom, provided for this mode of succession. When a monarch failed to provide a successor the choice reverted to the upper house of the legislature. When Kalakaua died in 1873, after a very brief reign, he named no successor. The house of nobles named David Kalakaua. He had been a police court lawyer in Honolulu, and played a banjo at dances for a consideration. His wife, Kapiolani, had been the widow of a South Sea island missionary. At one time she helped to support her husband by washing clothes.

Kalakaua's mother was of the blood of the low chiefs, as was his reputed father. It is notorious, however, that his real father was a negro barber. Kalakaua and his full sister, Liliuokalani, show wide divergence from the Hawaiian racial type. Their noses are flatter, their hair is kinky, and their lips much thicker than the pure native type. The late Princess Likelike, mother of Princess Kalaniana, half sister to Liliuokalani, was of pure native blood, and her appearance was in marked contrast to that of her brother and sister.

Preceding Kalakaua, with the exception of Lunailo there had never been any king that was not of the pure blood of the high chiefs. In their aboriginal state the high chiefs had absolute disposition of life and death among the Hawaiians and alone possessed the authority of the Taboo. They were so much larger and finer looking men than the ordinary natives were often taken by some early navigators for a different race. When Kalakaua was elected king the natives broke out in rioting in Honolulu and he was only installed by the forces of foreign powers. He named Liliuokalani as his successor.

ROBBED OF $20,000.

CHICAGO THIEVES ONCE MORE GET IN THEIR WORK.

MONEY TAKEN FROM A RAILWAY

J. A. Drake, Treasurer of the Indiana, Illinois and Iowa Railroad Assaulted and Robbed in His Office in the Rookery Building—The Thieves Escape, but Several Suspects Have Been Arrested.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—John A. Drake, treasurer of the Indiana, Illinois and Iowa railroad, was sandbagged and robbed of $20,000 in his office on the ninth floor of the Rookery building at 7 o'clock yesterday morning. The thieves escaped.

Mr. Drake had the money in a little hand satchel, and was preparing to go out on the road to pay the employees. He had first placed the cash in the valise, and was about to leave the office, when two men stole up behind him and felled him to the floor by several hard blows on the head.

The treasurer was knocked nearly insensible, and ere he could move a finger in defense, he claims that the thieves tore the satchel from his hand and rushed out of the office, slamming the door as they went. They rode down in an elevator, very much unconcerned and made their escape.

Where they went then the detectives are trying to find out. Every effort was made to keep the robbery a secret. Mr. Whitehead, general agent of the road, was found at the office in the Rookery at 12 o'clock, and refused at first to give any of the details of the robbery, but finally said that the amount of money stolen was about $20,000.

Mr. Drake has been with the Indiana, Illinois and Iowa railroad ever since it was organized. He and his father (the president) are part owners of the property.

The Central station detectives were notified, and Inspector Shea's men put to work on the case. The assaulted treasurer was able to get on his feet in a few hours and left the building. The employees were very reticent, and did not want to say much, although admitting that a robbery had occurred.

Occurring as it did in the Rookery, one of the largest and best known office buildings of Chicago, situated in the heart of the business district, the robbery caused intense excitement. Business was almost at a standstill in the neighborhood during the day, and employers and clerks were equally excited over the sensational theft.

The office of the Indiana, Illinois and Iowa Railroad company is in charge of Sidney S. Whitehead, general agent for Chicago. F. M. Drake, president of the road, has been out of the city several days, and his son, John A. Drake, the treasurer, only arrived here Tuesday.

It has been the custom of the treasurer to pay the employees of the road in checks. Had the custom been continued the startling robbery would not have been attempted in all probability, but within the past week the officials of the company decided to pay the men in currency.

It is thought probable the robbers learned that this month's pay would go out in currency from a circular which was issued the first of the month, announcing that wages would thereafter be paid in cash instead of checks. These circulars were distributed all along the railroad among the employees, and one of them could very easily have fallen into the hands of one of the thieves.

The company pays its men twice a month, on the 1st and 15th, and it was to make the last November payment that Treasurer Drake was starting out to do when the robbers attacked him and stole the $20,000 which was intended for the railroad men.

The news of the robbery created a bustle at the Central station, the like of which has not been seen since Assassin Prendergast was brought there after shooting Mayor Harrison. The police overhauled many suspects, and it was reported that detectives had arrested two men at a depot who refused to give an account of themselves, and that they were locked up at the Central station. None of the officers would admit that an arrest had been made.

MURDERED BY BURGLARS.

THE FATHER KILLED AND TWO OF THE CHILDREN SHOT BY THEM.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Thomas Prunty was shot and killed by burglars at his home in West Thirteenth street Tuesday night, and two other members of the family, Sadie and Peter Prunty, were wounded by the burglars' bullets. The thieves escaped.

Mrs. Prunty was awakened by the two intruders, who were in her room. She called her husband, who rushed to grapple with the men. A shot from one of them stopped him and he fell, dying almost instantly. The noise awakened other members of the family and a son and daughter, rushing to their mother's room, blocked the exit of the burglars.

More shots followed, and the daughter fell with a bullet in her thigh, the son being shot in the ankle. The intruders sprang over the wounded young woman and made their escape. Two policemen, who were near at the time, gave chase and fired at the retreating men, but without effect.

The murdered man was an employee of the city, having been engaged in the street department. He was reported to have kept a considerable sum of money in the house, and this, the police think, was known to the men who attempted the burglary. Two suspicious characters have been arrested, and will be held for an investigation.

A PROTEST FROM ALABAMA AGAINST PLACING IRON ORE AND COAL ON THE FREE LIST.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The iron and coal men of Alabama will not be accorded a formal hearing by the ways and means committee. For a week or two past Congressman Wheeler. Senator Pugh and others have been interviewing members of the ways and means committee with a view of having a hearing accorded to the representatives of the Commercial club of Birmingham, who desired to protest against the proposition now pending in the committee to place iron ore and coal on the free list.

At a recent meeting of the Commercial club of Birmingham, which is composed of capitalists and manufacturers of that city, resolutions were adopted calling upon the Alabama senators and representatives in congress to vote against any bill reported by the ways and means committee to place iron ore and coal on the free list.

As Birmingham is the great manufacturing city of the new south, the stand taken by these manufacturers is having considerable weight upon the Alabama members of congress. Congressman Wheeler has had several conferences with Chairman Wilson of the ways and means committee, and Senator Pugh has been telegraphed by the Commercial club to request that a delegation from that body be accorded a hearing before the ways and means committee on the 21st. But the Alabamians will be disappointed, for after consultation with other Democratic members of the committee, Chairman Wilson has declined to accord any formal hearings to the Birmingham manufacturers, stating that the committee has long ago closed its public hearings, and that now to make an exception for the commercial club of Birmingham would be to open the way for numerous other gentlemen and delegations which are demanding to be heard in apprehension of legislation that may effect their interests.

A telegram to this effect has been sent by Senator Pugh's representative to Secretary Chappell Corey of the Commercial club. If the delegation still persists in coming to Washington they will have to content themselves with informal interviews with the various members of the committee instead of receiving a public hearing.

Congressman Magner of New York is protesting vigorously against the placing of cotton bagging on the free list, and has announced to Democratic members of the ways and means committee that he will vote against their bill if it contains this provision.

Congressman Bland of Missouri has also come to the front lately in the role of one of those dissatisfied with the proposed tariff bill, and is reported as threatening to vote against the bill and fight it on the floor of the house if it places wool on the free list.

PACIFIC RAILROADS.

THE GOVERNMENT'S INTERESTS IN THEM WILL BE PROTECTED.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—It is evidently the intention of the administration to jealously protect the interests of the government in the Pacific railroads; and the committees of the two houses which have this matter under jurisdiction are already giving it careful attention with a view of proposing new legislation immediately on the reconvening of congress. The senate committee on Pacific railroads, of which Calvin S. Brice of Ohio is chairman, is holding conferences with Attorney General Olney with the hope of perfecting a bill which can be introduced in December and which will protect the government's interests from any embarrassments that might grow out of the late receivership.

The company pays its men twice a month, on the 1st and 15th, and it was to make the last November payment that Treasurer Drake was starting out to do when the robbers attacked him and stole the $20,000 which was intended for the railroad men.

The news of the robbery created a bustle at the Central station, the like of which has not been seen since Assassin Prendergast was brought there after shooting Mayor Harrison. The police overhauled many suspects, and it was reported that detectives had arrested two men at a depot who refused to give an account of themselves, and that they were locked up at the Central station. None of the officers would admit that an arrest had been made.

We are preparing a bill affecting the matter which, I think, will be introduced at the opening of the session, but the details of which we have not yet by any means agreed upon. I think we all feel that the interests of the government should be carefully guarded, and, as to the present receivership, we believe that the majority of the receivers should, by all means, be appointed by the government. This is really the only way in which the interests of the government can be preserved under the receivership, because receivers' certificates, it must be remembered, are a prior lien over everything else—even over the time-honored claims of the government. So, of course, if receivers' certificates are to be issued to run the road, they should be issued by men who will not lose sight of the interests of government.

This can only be done by having a majority of the receivers government men. It is the intention of the committee to see that the rights and interests of the government shall be respected at all times."

CAPTAIN ADAMS' OPERATION SUCCESSFUL.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Captain J. G. B. Adams, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army, who a few weeks ago submitted to a dangerous operation at the Hotel Imperial, has returned to his home in Lynn, Mass. Dr. W. Lewis Tallman, who conducted the operation, has received a letter from Dr. Adams, in which he says his wound was healed, and he feels better than at any time since he was shot in the fight at Gettysburg 30 years ago.

TWO KILLED AND TWO INJURED.

JOLIET, Ills., Nov. 16.—Two men, Harry Tinsley and John Jones, were instantly killed, and two others, John Riley and Patrick Roberts, were badly injured by an explosion of dynamite. The men were employed on the drainage canal and were engaged in heating the explosive. The report of the explosion was plainly heard in Joliet, nine miles distant.

INDICTMENTS DISAPPEAR.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 16.—The grand jury now in session here have decided not to make public any of their presentations until just before they are ready to adjourn, when they will be handed to the court direct. The reason for this is that indictments have mysteriously disappeared for several terms past, at a recent term no less than 12 being missing, and this grand jury is determined all their indictments shall be acted on.

RETURNED AFTER 36 YEARS.

ELWOOD, Ind., Nov. 16.—Daniel Irish, separated from his family for 36 years and given up for dead, has turned up at their home, Frankton.

EXCITED COMMUNITY

FIENDISH WORK OF A FARMHAND NEAR ALLIANCE, O.

OUTRAGE, MURDER AND SUICIDE.

A YOUNG LADY ASSAULTED AND MURDERED. THE FIEND THEN CUTS HIS OWN THROAT, BUT IS STILL ALIVE—TROOPS CALLED OUT TO PROTECT THE BRUTE FROM THE HANDS OF AN ANGRY MOB.

ALLIANCE, O., Nov. 16.—Miss Birdie Baugh, aged 20 years, the only daughter of C. C. Baugh, a wealthy farmer residing just west of the city limits, was outraged and murdered Tuesday night by Curt Davidson, a farm hand, who then attempted suicide by cutting his throat with a razor. Baugh and his wife were away from home. Davidson boards with the family.

No one witnessed the crime, but from appearance of the kitchen it seems that Miss Baugh had waited until her two brothers and Davidson had gone to bed, and then covered the fire and was taking off her shoes when Davidson returned and struck her on the head with a piece of iron. The brute then picked her up and carried her to the barn, a distance of 100 yards, where he outraged her and then cut her throat from ear to ear.

The crime was not discovered until yesterday morning, when Miss Baugh's brother found her mutilated remains nearly stripped of the clothing, lying on the barn floor.

At about the same hour a farmer, living half a mile from the Baugh residence, discovered Davidson lying on a pile of straw in his barnyard with his throat cut.

The police were notified, and the fellow was brought to the city and taken to the hospital. He is about 40 years of age, unmarried, and had worked for Baugh for several years. He was always considered of a morose and ugly disposition, and had but few friends.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Fair weather, except light local snows at lake stations; slightly warmer; southwest winds.

"SOCKLESS" JERRY SIMPSON's comment on the late election: "The fools are not all dead yet."

It seems passing strange that Colonel Ingersoll should profess his ignorance as to whether man is immortal. He seems to imagine he knows almost everything else. What a pity that such a man can not have a convincing proof that he had a Creator.

The frowning zealots will please make a note of the following excerpt from an able paper in the October number of the Arena: "At Pittsburg, in the 'East End,'" has been given a practical example of union in work; twenty churches acknowledging that they are comrades, as soldiers in a war; making actually a "war-map" of the district, and assigning to each corps of laborers a part; a Presbyterian minister and a Roman Catholic priest working shoulder to shoulder as the captains of salvation for one division or parish."

THE New Haven Echo is after the authors of the new Medical Practice act. It says: "Our advertising President and Secretary of the State Board of Health are out with new ads. that they are working the press of the State with. It is a quarter of a column reader on how to prevent small-pox, that all could be boiled down into two words, namely, by vaccination. When it comes to shrewd advertising, doctors who pay for their ads. are not in it when compared with the President and Secretary of the State Board of Health. The way of the latter gives us that tired feeling."

THE Philadelphia Record is not worrying much over the result of the recent election. It says: "In 1890 and in 1892 voters were influenced by calm reason of conviction. In 1893 they were hurried by distresses and bedeviled with the outcry of stumping political Cassandras. Confused as to the cause of their misfortunes, they took counsel of their fears. It is more than probable that the people were twice right and once wrong. The flurry that is now putting the grand old party in a condition of hysterics will soon be overpast. It has done both parties good. The Democracy stood in need of purgation; the Republican party sadly wanted a stimulant."

AN ENTERING WEDGE.

"Medical Progress," a Louisville publication, enters a vigorous protest against the obnoxious "section 225," which is ostensibly another infallible device to protect the innocent and incompetent "regular" against the pernicious activity of the Esculapian tramp. It says: "The very idea of taxing a man $10 or $100 a year for using knowledge for which he has spent years of his time and thousands of dollars in accumulating. We pay a license for our buggies and taxes for our instruments, medical libraries, etc., besides a fee for registering our diplomas. Is not this enough to satisfy the vampires? Why not license in the same proportion the minister, the journalist, the printer, the moulder, the carpenter and all others for being allowed to use their particular knowledge in pursuing their daily avocation? There is only one reason. It wouldn't be politic. They want to, bad enough, but are sufficiently cunning to take one class at a time."

"What should be done? There may be several ways of getting at the evil. But the first thing of all is to organize against it."

"Physicians generally are of an easy-going nature and are inclined to take things as they come, and for that reason we as a class are imposed upon more than any other profession, and this state of affairs instead of improving is growing worse. Forbearance after a time ceases to be a virtue. Even now some are inclined to say, 'O, let it go, it doesn't amount to much.' It does amount to a great deal. One hundred dollars annually for forty years, the term the majority of physicians practice, amounts to $4,000, a sufficient sum to purchase a nice, comfortable home, a thing so few physicians own."

MASON COUNTY TEACHERS.

Programme of the Next Meeting of Their Association, to be Held at Lewisburg.

The next meeting of the Mason County Teachers' Association will be held at the District School House No. 18 in Lewisburg, on Saturday, November 25th, commencing at 9:30 a.m. The following programme has been prepared for the session, by the committee heretofore announced, Ellsworth Swift, Chairman:

"Should we Teach Children to Spell Words not in Their Vocabularies, or Words Which They do not Understand and Can Not be Expected to Use?"—assigned to J. B. Bradley.

"Ways of Helping Children to Classify Examples Under the Fundamental Rules of Arithmetic i.e., to tell Whether an Example is in Addition, Subtraction or Division."—assigned to W. T. Berry.

Each teacher will be called upon to state his or her greatest difficulty in teaching and state what they have done or are doing to overcome it.

"The Meaning and Province of Teaching and Training in Education."—assigned to T. V. Chandler. G. W. BLATTERMAN, Superintendent.

THE LATE MRS MARY WILLIAMS

Mrs. Mary Williams, an aged and highly esteemed citizen of Mason County, died a few days ago at the home of her daughter at Plumville. Although she had been in failing health for some time her friends and relatives were shocked at the sad news. The funeral services at the house, conducted by Rev. Mr. Adams, of Lewisburg, were listened to by a large and sympathetic audience, after which the remains were brought here and tenderly laid to rest in the Maysville Cemetery.

Deceased was in her eighty-second year, and was born and raised in this county. She was a daughter of Robert Wilson, one of the pioneers of this section. Her husband, Thomas A. Williams, who has far proceeded into the evening of life, being in his eighty-fourth year, survives her. She was the mother of two children—Mrs. James Ensor, of Plumville, and Robert H. Williams, who lives southeast of the city. Her sisters and brothers living are Mrs. James Froman, of this city, Mr. Wm. Wilson, of Cincinnati, Mrs. Sallie Johnson, of West Union, O., Mr. John Wilson, of Paris, Ky., and Mrs. Frankie Spawne, of Bentonville, O. Deceased was a member of the Baptist Church and was a kind-hearted and Christian woman, of quiet and unassuming manners, and the sympathy of the many who loved her and esteemed her goes out to the aged husband in his declining days.

FOR THE FARMER.

D. C. Points, of Grant County, sold 100 fine breeding ewes at $5.25 per head.

Twenty-one head of registered Jersey cows and heifers were sold at auction at Shellyville last week at an average of $66.

In Madison County, Mac Phelps sold to J. W. Bales, agent of Lehman & Bro., forty fat cattle, for export, averaging about 1,550 pounds, at 42 cents.

Cattle are dying in Bourbon and Fayette counties of some mysterious disease. It is thought that the disease is contagious. W. K. Hughes, of Bourbon, who lost three valuable oxen in two days, fears that he will lose his entire drove, as others are sick.

Is Life Worth Living?

That depends upon the Liver. If the Liver is inactive the whole system is out of order—the breath is bad, digestion poor, head dull or aching, energy and hopefulness gone, the spirit is depressed, a heavy weight exists after eating, with general despondency and the blues. The Liver is the housekeeper of the health; and a harmless, simple remedy that acts like Nature, does not constipate afterwards or require constant taking, does not interfere with business or pleasure during its use, makes Simmons Liver Regulator a medical perfection.

HEARTS AND HANDS.

Wednesday Witnesses the Union of Two More Happy Couples.

Egnew Alexander Nuptials at First Baptist Church—Marshall-Calvert Marriage at Lewisburg.

Sly little Cupid continues busily at work, and is ever adding fresh victims to his already lengthy list.

Wednesday witnessed the union of two more happy couples, and the number of November weddings this season promises to equal the record of late years for this month.

At the First Baptist Church yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock the destinies of Mr. James Allen Egnew and Miss Ida Mae Alexander were united. It was a pretty wedding, and was witnessed by an audience that filled the large auditorium.

The decorations consisted of a pyramidal arrangement of palms and other tropical plants about the altar which served as a handsome background to the picture formed by the bridal party during the nuptial ceremony. The bright sunshine had been shut out, and the room was lighted by low-burning gas jets.

There were no attendants. The ushers were Mr. Ralph Jones, of Portsmouth, and Messrs. Will Stockton, Paul McDonald and Horace Outten, of this city. The music was rendered by Miss Lida Berry, organist, and Mr. U. G. Bailey, violinist. The pastor of the church, Rev. R. G. Patrick, officiated, and in an impressive ceremony uttered the words that united the happy couple in the bonds of wedlock.

The bride is the second daughter of ex-Sheriff and Mrs. John W. Alexander, and is universally admired by her many acquaintances for her sweet disposition, modest demeanor and estimable character. She wore a pretty costume of white silk crepe, trimmed with point applique lace, and carried a bunch of Bride roses. The groom is a son of the late A. J. Egnew, and is a young man of excellent habits. The BULLETIN joins in the good wishes extended the happy couple by their many friends. May their pathway through life be marked with happiness and prosperity.

After spending a few days in Cincinnati the newly-wedded will take up their residence with the groom's mother on East Third street.

THE MARSHALL-CALVERT NUPTIALS.

The nuptial event of the season at Lewisburg transpired yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. At that hour the marriage of Mr. Ben. Marshall and Miss Orra Moore Calvert was solemnized, the ceremony being performed at the Baptist Church, the pastor, Rev. M. B. Adams, officiating. The happy couple have a large family connexion and the church was crowded with relatives and friends. Messrs. R. C. Durrett, Charles Rhodes and George Parry, of Washington, and Mr. James Owens, of Lewisburg, acted as ushers. Immediately after the ceremony the couple left for Cincinnati, and after a few days spent in that city, they will be at home at the old Marshall homestead, near Washington.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. Oscar M. Calvert, of the Lewisburg neighborhood, while the groom is a son of the venerable Colonel Charles A. Marshall, of Washington. The couple are worthy representatives of two of the old and highly esteemed families of Mason County. The bride was a pupil at Hayswood Seminary a few years ago, and has many friends in this city.

An Old Landmark Gone.

One of the old landmarks of the county, which had a very interesting history, has lately been removed. The stone house that had stood for long years on the old road leading from Washington to Taylor's Mill, built by Robert Taylor, Sr., for his sons, John D. Taylor, and Robert Taylor, Jr., and his nephew, William Drake, as a study in which to prepare themselves for college, has recently been torn down. These were young men of much ability and promise. Young Drake died while yet a young man; Robert Taylor, Jr., has been dead for more than forty years, and John D. Taylor died in 1874. They were all graduates of Transylvania University, at Lexington.

JOHN RUGGLES.

A Body Thought to be That of the Old Fisherman Found in the River at Bull Creek.

The badly decomposed body of an old man was found floating in the river, near the mouth of Bull Creek, by Messrs. R. H. Newell, Tom Cook and Will McMann, about 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The remains were roughly dressed, and showed plainly that they had been in the water several weeks. The man had a rather heavy gray beard, and looked to be about sixty years of age.

The face was badly discolored, and was covered with mud. There was a wound on the left eye and forehead, indicating that the deceased may have been foully murdered and then thrown in the river.

A handkerchief, a knife and a small sum of money were found on the body.

The remains were brought to this city and taken to Means' undertaking rooms.

Several parties who have viewed the body believe it is that of John Ruggles, an old fisherman. Ruggles' family lives on Quick's Run, Lewis County, and he has been missing for a month or so. The BULLETIN made mention of his disappearance some time ago.

The Coroner's inquest has not been completed. It was thought best to adjourn the jury till to-morrow at 9 a.m., when some of Ruggles' family will probably be here.

Dr. Owens examined the remains this morning, and is of the opinion that the wounds mentioned were caused by a blow from a club or other blunt instrument.

The bones were crushed, and the blood-clots indicate that the blow was received while the man was alive. The wound may have been caused by the wheel of a steamboat.

CLEVELAND IN NEW YORK.
The Object of His Trip to the Metropolis
Not Made Public.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The president spent yesterday in New York. His disappearance was the cause of considerable speculation, especially as everybody about the White House preserved such a mysterious silence upon the subject. It was first thought that the president had gone to New York to undergo another surgical operation, similar to that of last summer, but this is positively and officially denied at the White House.

Among all the rumors the most probable story is that there was more or less politics in the visit, and the president desired to meet several prominent New York gentlemen. The meeting is said to have been arranged by Secretary Lamont. This explanation was given by a man who was positive that there was nothing in the story that the president's health necessitated any such trip. All who have seen the president lately assert that he is in excellent health and there is no necessity for any operation, or for the consultation with physicians.

At the White House there was an intimation that the president had private business in New York which required his attention, and this was the reason for his visit. There seems to be no explanation for the mystery about the movements of the president except the assertion made by White House officials that he did not think it incumbent upon him to take the public into his confidence about his private affairs, and further that he was always independent in such matters.

It was also said that no matter what explanation was made of the president's New York trip, the public would assume to be fully as mystified and ask for as many explanations, as they do when he goes away without saying anything about his movements.

THE PRICE OF ANTHRACITE.
Forty-Two Men Doing Their Best to Dictate the Rate.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—There was held at the Fourth Avenue hotel a week ago a meeting to establish what is known as the Anthracite Coal Operators' association. The railroads controlling the outlets by which coal is brought to the seaboard and everywhere else have been able to dictate the price of coal to the consumer. There were 42 persons present at the meeting and represented by proxy. Taken together they produced during 1892 more than 11,000,000 tons of anthracite coal—a third of the entire output. William Connell of Scranton was made president; E. B. Leisenring of Philadelphia, vice president; C. D. Simpson of Scranton, secretary and treasurer. The board of managers includes E. B. Leisenring, E. B. Ely, L. A. Riley, W. G. Payne, John Jernyn, O. S. Johnson, William Connell, C. D. Simpson, Frank T. Patterson, Dr. J. S. Wentz, Dr. A. H. Howe and Charles Parrish.

FLOWER SUPERSTITIONS.

Haidens' Barometers For Divining the Depths of Their Sweethearts' Love.

It is singular to see how many meaningless ceremonies are now practiced by young women—ceremonies which were formerly used in earnest as love charms or incantations. Most of these have an amatory origin, and in connection with not a few certain flowers are used, presumably as a means of foretelling the future. In several parts of New England when a young lady expects a visit from her lover she will pluck marigold, take it in her hand when he arrives and carry it until the end of his visit, when from its fresh or faded condition she will judge of the strength of his affection.

A German girl, after having been called on by her lover, will put a star flower or dandelion in water and leave it there until his next visit, drawing an omen from its condition, while a Spanish maiden will take a moss rosebud, wear it on her breast, and if it expands to become a perfect flower, the omen is considered exceedingly fortunate. A superstition of the same kind is shown by the East Indian maiden who places a poppy in her hair. In England the primrose is used for the same purpose, and in country districts of New England the spikes of the rib wort plantain are taken, wrapped in dock leaves, placed beneath a stone, and if the next day signs of new buds appear the omen is considered happy.

In France young ladies desirous of ascertaining the extent of a lover's affection take the common daisy and pull off its leaves one by one, with the question, "Does he love me? Does he love me little? Does he love me much? Does he love me with all his soul?" Marguerite in "Faust" uses the common blue bottle with similar questions. In England the ash leaf is sometimes employed to ascertain the faithfulness of an absent lover, and the Irish maiden learns of her future by putting a shamrock in her shoe, after which she walks abroad, and the first man she meets or one of his name will be her husband.—New York Advertiser.

Some New York Breakfasts.

Nearly every German bakery on Third avenue serves breakfast and luncheon to the furnished room population of the east side. Some serve eggs and cold meats, coffee, tea and chocolate. The majority, however, provide only coffee, tea, rolls and cakes. Nine out of ten of the customers take coffee and cake. The latter is not the French or American kind. It consists of four varieties dear to the German palate—apple, peach, prune and sugar. The last named is also called cinnamon. It is made of bread dough on the upper surface of which is spread some butter, sugar and cinnamon. Then it is baked.

The peach and apple cakes are made of thinly rolled bread dough, surmounted by slices of apples or peaches, as the case may be. When a little butter and sugar have been placed between the slices, the baker has approached as near perfection as possible. The dough of the prune cake is made like the other and covered thickly with mashed stewed prunes.

In the best bakeries a slice of any of these cakes from four to five inches square is sold for 5 cents. A good cup of coffee or tea with milk and sugar costs the same. Those who like light and sweet breakfasts can thus be satisfied for 10 cents. Probably 5,000 east siders eat such breakfasts in the bakeries every morning.—New York Sun.

A Well Filled Postal Card.

At the Dusseldorf exhibition a few years ago a gentleman showed a postal card upon which the whole of the first three books of the Odyssey were written, the remaining space being filled with the transcript of a long debate which had taken place in the German parliament a short time before. The whole card contained 33,000 words.—Boston Commonwealth.
